

Celebrating WOMEN'S HISTORY MONTH

Women talk about women who have inspired them

“ I have been fortunate to meet many inspiring women in my journey. My mother is a teacher in mathematics, and her love of the discipline and dedication to her countless students inspire me to this day. There are countless more women, mentors, peers, and mentees who continue inspiring me every day. ”

DOOTI ROY
Boehringer Ingelheim
Pharmaceutical Inc.

DIONNE PRICE
US Food and Drug Administration and 2023 ASA President

“ I have been inspired by the stories of women such as Florence Nightingale, Gertrude Cox, Dorothy Vaughan, Katherine Johnson, and Mary Jackson, to name a few. Not only did their efforts contribute to the advancement of science, but they also paved the way for other women to become scientists, mathematicians, and statisticians. ”

NANCY POTOK
COO of NAPx Consulting and former
Chief Statistician of the US

“ I was active in organizations such as the Women's Transportation Seminar very early on. I became president of the Washington, DC, chapter, and we held a conference in which Sally Ride, Elizabeth Dole, and Nancy Kassebaum—all at the peak of their power and influence—spoke. I got to meet all three, and they were all incredible role models for me in developing a sense of what was possible career-wise. ”

Learn more about these women on STATtr@k, your source for internship and awards opportunities and guidance for students and early-career statisticians. Check it out at <https://stattrak.amstat.org>.